

Southwest Family
Advocacy Center

MANDATORY REPORTER TRAINING

RECOGNIZING AND REPORTING CHILD MALTREATMENT

Any person who works with or around children, or is responsible for the care and/or custody of children, is a mandated reporter. This 90-minute training is for mandated reporters, including school personnel, victim advocates, medical and mental health professionals, parents, guardians, stepparents, foster parents, volunteers, caretakers, childcare providers, faith-based personnel, peace officers, child welfare investigators, and any other person who has responsibility for the care or treatment of a child.

To schedule a training, email
Erica Williams at:
ewilliams@avondaleaz.gov

Learn How To

Recognize Abuse & Neglect ◀

Learn about the prevalence and effects of child maltreatment and how to recognize it

Receive Disclosures ◀

Learn how to appropriately receive a disclosure

Report Child Maltreatment ◀

Learn when and how to report

Understand Protection for Reporters ◀

Understand immunity for mandated reporters and sanctions for not reporting

Support Families ◀

Learn ways you can support families and improve child welfare

